

The venue is close to O'Hare Airport and traffic from the city can be an absolute nightmare. Consider taking the L. There isn't a stop right at the Allstate, but the Blue Line will take you near the venue. Get off at the Rosemont stop - the one right before O'Hare. You can catch a cab from there to the venue for approx. $6, or walk 2.5 miles on busy streets with no sidewalks. This is a good alternative to driving and dealing with airport traffic and the parking lot mess. You may also try to take the L all the way to O'Hare and ride a free hotel shuttle to one of the hotels that is walking distance to the arena. After the show, CTA buses outside the venue return to the L stop. If driving (leave early), the arena is easily accessible from Touhy Ave which is just off of 294. Also, the Lee St. exit off I-90 is usually better than Mannheim Rd exit. The rush hour can take over an hour and be very frustrating (3:30 onward is a nightmare). Parking is more than adequate. After the show, CTA buses outside the venue return to the L stop.

 Sandstone Amphitheater
 633 N 130th St/Bonner Springs KS
 (913) 721-3400 / outdoor
 Sandstone is located 3 miles west of 435 on I-70. Take the Bonner Springs exit or Hwy 7 off I-70, and travel Hwy 7 for 1/4 mile north to 130th Str. Or exit Hwy 24 (State Ave.) off of I-435, and travel Hwy 24 west for 3 miles to 130th St. It's out in the middle of nowhere, meaning no hotels nearby, so you might be best off booking something in Overland Park and just dealing with the 25 minute ride to get there and back. (Both Overland Park and the venue are right off the 435 loop which circles the city.)

Milwaukee

 Alpine Valley
 Hwy. D & Hwy. 120/East Troy WI
 (262) 642-4400 / 40,000 / outdoor
 Alpine Valley is in the middle of nowhere. Tattling is fairly lenient in the parking area, which is an open field, bumpy and often filled with glass and debris. Be prepared to be there forever before leaving. "Hwy 20" is actually a 40mph road that passes thru many tiny towns with few food places. From Milwaukee: Travel S on I-43, exit left onto Bowers Rd., take Bowers Rd to Hwy D, turn left on Hwy D to Alpine Valley entrance, turn right at the entrance. From Chicago (#1): Travel W (north) on I-94 to Hwy 20, go W on Hwy 20 to Hwy D, travel W on D and turn left at Alpine Valley. From Chicago (#2): Travel W (north) on I-94 to Hwy 50, travel N / W on 12 to I-43, exit left onto Bowers Rd and turn right onto Hwy D, turn right at Alpine Valley. From Madison: Travel W on Route 12 to Hwy D, go E on D and turn right at Alpine Valley. From Rockford: Travel N on Hwy 51 (becomes I-90 at WI border) to I-43, travel N / W on I-43, exit and turn right at Bowers Rd., take Bowers Rd to and turn right at Alpine Valley.
